CCP Responsible Sourcing and Sustainable Development Policy

CCP believes that responsible sourcing goes beyond the principle of legal environmental and socially acceptable procurement of raw materials but additionally encompasses the sustainability of our products throughout their life cycle from the raw materials sourcing, manufacture, delivery to customers, use in sustainable construction and appropriate end of life usage.

Our policy is to increase the use of locally sourced materials in order to reduce transport impacts.

We believe that BES6001 provides an appropriate framework for both structuring our management procedures and demonstration our performance with regard to responsible sourcing and sustainable development.

Our commitment is therefore to operate to and continuously improve performance in line with the principles embodied by BES6001 and to maintain independently verified certification to the standard across the whole range of our products.

To achieve this, we will maintain a range of policies, procedures and management systems that govern the key principles of responsible sourcing highlighted in Section 4.1 of BE6001, namely:

- Ethics
- Legal Compliance
- Supply Chain Management
- Stakeholder Engagement
- Complaints and Prosecutions
- Fundamental Rights at Work
- Health and Safety
- Climate Change and Energy
- Resource Use
- Site Stewardship
- Water Consumption
- Waste management
- Transport Impacts
- Employment Skills
- Local Communities
- Contribution to the Built Environment
